P3 & PQU

Solutions

Power Protection Products, Inc. (P3)

P3 represents some of the biggest industry brands and strives to provide the top performing products in the industry. P3 stays on top of industry advances by participating in power quality studies, conferences and seminars with respect to data centers, power and loading analysis, transient voltage detection and power system harmonic analysis & mitigation, ground studies, and power monitoring systems.

P3 has designed and built a variety of data centers, IT expansion projects, wiring closet upgrades, and a host of product and equipment placements as well as provided for a variety of colocation companies. We believe in providing a stable, secure IT environment without over redundant and over priced systems. P3's Low Cost Co-Lo is a result and combination of our years of data center experience.

Power Quality University

In addition to product sales, distribution, and marketing, P3 is also a leader in customer education through Power Quality University, which provides an educational environment for hands-on training, testing, and evaluation of today's power quality and data center solutions and equipment. The instructors who teach at PQU are highly qualified professionals and are all experts in the field. Upon completion of a PQU program, students can obtain Continuing Education Credits (CEU's). PQU is just one more way that P3 is affecting the electrical community in a positive way.
